

A PLATFORM OF THE TINDIRA FOUNDATION

Interpreting Africa's constitutional-economic transformation

A serious, hopeful, Pan-African conversation about the rules, institutions and infrastructure on which Africa's future will be built.

Governance

Institutions

Infrastructure

Capital

Technology & AI

Integration

Culture & Heritage

Youth & Leadership

Listen to the conversations

Explore the framework

Africa's future will be decided less by what lies beneath its soil than by the quality of the rules it chooses to live by.

This is the proposition of African Constitutional Economics — the framework at the heart of everything we do.

THE WORK

Six pillars, one continental story

Every conversation sits within one of six pillars — and is examined through a single analytical lens: African Constitutional Economics.

Building Africa

Constitutionalism, Institutions & the State

Governance, courts, regulators,
strategic assets and the future
African state.

Healing Africa

Peace, Memory & Human Belonging

Conflict and reconstruction, belonging, citizenship and reconciliation.

Rooting Africa

Preparing Africa

Culture, Heritage & Identity

Identity, language, memory, the creative economies and civilisational confidence.

Youth, Diaspora & the Future

Youth leadership, innovation, enterprise and constitutional citizenship.

Sustaining Africa

Enterprise & Family Legacies

African enterprise, resilience, succession and economic dignity.

Connecting Africa

Integration & Shared Future

AfCFTA, corridors, infrastructure and Pan-African systems.

SEASON ONE · AFRICA'S CONSTITUTIONAL-ECONOMIC MOMENT

Featured conversations

Long-form dialogue with the people who govern, build, finance and study the continent. Every episode researched, sourced and built to be worth revisiting a decade on.

EPISODE 01 · PREMIERE

BUILDING AFRICA

Why Africa's Future Must Be Constitutional

The opening conversation: why prosperity rests on the quality of the rules — and what it means to make a constitution real.

► Listen & read the brief

EPISODE 04

BUILDING AFRICA

Rule of Law as Economic Infrastructure

How law shapes investor confidence and commercial certainty.

► Listen

EPISODE 08

CONNECTING AFRICA

Railways, Ports & Continental Integration

Corridors, trade systems and the infrastructure of integration.

► Listen

A constitutional-economic memory bank for Africa

More than a media library. Every conversation, brief and paper is indexed and preserved — building, over a decade, a searchable record of Africa's institutional transformation.

Constitutional moments

Infrastructure milestones

Institutional reforms

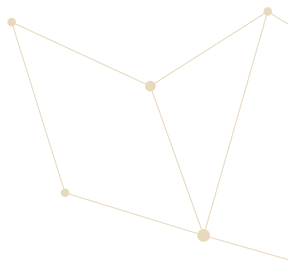

Transformation timelines

Search by country

Search by institution

Search by Moonshot

Search by theme

[Founder portrait]

FROM THE FOUNDER

"I have seen Africa's question from both of its sides —

*from the bench and from the balance sheet. Law and the economy are not two subjects. They are one.

Ruth Sebatindira SC

Founder · Senior Counsel · former President of the Uganda Law Society · former Member of the Judicial Service Commission of Uganda

Read the Letter to Africa

Join the conversation Africa needs

The Constitutional Africa Brief — a monthly letter on the rules, institutions and infrastructure shaping the continent. Considered, not constant.

Your email address

Subscribe

Constitutional Africa

A Pan-African platform interpreting the continent's constitutional-economic transformation. An initiative of the Tindira Foundation.

THE PLATFORM

About

Vision 2050

Founding Charter

Editorial Principles

THE WORK

Conversations

Research

The Archive

Seasons

ENGAGE

Partnerships

Fellowships

The Brief

Contact

Constitutional Africa is a platform of the Tindira Foundation, advancing the framework of African Constitutional Economics.

© 2026 · info@constitutionalafrica.org